THE TEAM

In 2014, Developer Alirio Torrealba and founder of MG Developer Miami fell in love with the classic award-winning town houses Almeria Row, located in the historic Biltmore subdivision. Inspired by Almeria Row's successful vision, Torrealba forged ties with its development team to develop Beatrice Row, a new project of nine magnificent luxury town homes, also located in the historic district.

MG Developer Miami is proud and enthusiastic of working with the internationally recognized architectural firm de la Guardia Victoria Architects and Urbanists (DLGV Architects) based in Coral Gables. In addition to having being the recipient of more than ten prestigious design awards, DLGV Architects' luxury residential projects in Florida and The Bahamas have been featured in: Architectural Digest, Home & Design, Period Home, Metropolitan Home, Coastal Living, Veranda, and Southern Living Our team's commitment through Beatrice Row is to offer you the unique opportunity of owning an elegant, luxurious, and beautiful town home, reminiscent of London's and New York's best, in a remarkable location in Miami. Additionally, for us, creativity, art, and design, are of equal value to construction, and the same level of craft dedicated to the production of ideas and drawings by the team will be applied to the supervision of the town houses at the job site.
